Outdoor Worship Service Sunday, June 7 at 10:30 am

We have missed our wonderful St Luke Church Family! In an attempt to safely gather again for the first time, we are planning an outdoor worship service for Sunday, June 7 at 10:30 am.

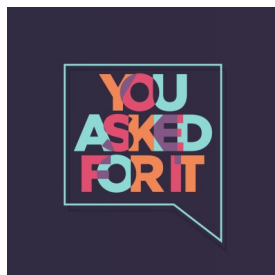

Your safety continues to be our number one priority. We will ask that you bring your own lawn chair and spread out to keep six feet of distance between your family and others. We also ask that everyone please wear a mask until everyone is seated. Those who are considered high risk may want to continue wearing a mask during the service as well. Please be safe during this time and continue to properly social distance yourself from others. If this goes well we hope to be able to have another outdoor service soon. You can also bring along your own bread and juice and we will do Communion together.

Please note in case of rain we will plan on moving this service to the following weekend as we cannot move it inside at this time. For those who are unable to attend we will be posting the service online hopefully by 1 pm. We look forward to seeing your smiling faces as we finally worship together again!

We missed you!
(A LOT)

New Sermon Series

We will be starting a new series in June called You Asked For It. In this series, Pastor Chad will be tackling all your questions: fun ones, serious ones, and the ones you've always wanted to ask. This has the potential to be fun and to provide something different during this strange time.

Please help us to get this going by submitting your ideas and questions by email. During this series he may also ask you to be his host in a talk show style conversation. That means that you'll be able to ask the questions, from the silly to the serious, and he will attempt to answer them. Please send us all your questions and let us know if you would be willing to join Pastor Chad for one of these fun sessions.

My Story

I was taking a walk around the pond after work. The air was fresh, and the sound of lawn mowers filled the air. Ahead of me, there was a group of Canadian

Geese on the sidewalk. As I rounded the corner, the adult geese began guiding the young goslings toward the water. The parents protected their young by keeping them between the pair. Once they reached the water the group swam around with the goselings in the mix. The parents were ever watchful. On my next lap around the pond I watched the geese move across the sidewalk and away from the pond, the goselings still between the parents as they headed away from the water and me. They reached the tall grasses at the bottom of the hill and one parent kept a watchful eye on the area as the youngsters meandered about. Canadian Geese parents are diligent about protecting their young from danger as they stick together for a season and teach them the important things will need to survive.

It's really not that different for us humans right now. Families are learning again how to stick together and to be diligent in their habits. We are learning what to touch and where to go and how to act in ways to keep us safe. Children are being guided, directed, and protected by their parents, and family units are sticking together for this season of uncertainty. Hopefully we are also learning new ways to see the love and beauty of God in the world around us.

Teach us Lord, to see your beauty in the midst of our daily lives. Teach us to see your light in the midst of being alone in the darkness. Teach us to feel you and to be your hands in feet in the world around us. Teach us Lord and help us to teach others. Amen

Solidarity

MATTHEW 10:24-39

To explore what it means to trust God when facing the challenges of discipleship

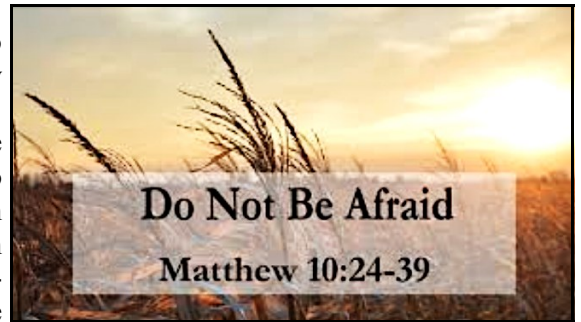

Matthew's passage asks us to make a commitment to stand with those who are of the body of Christ, even if it means denying family and friends.

...don't be afraid of those people because nothing is hidden that won't be revealed, and nothing secret that won't be brought out into the open. What I say to you in darkness, tell in the light; and what you hear whispered, announce from rooftops.

WORTHINESS: Those who love father or mother more than me aren't worthy of me. Those who love son or daughter more than me aren't worthy of me. Those who don't pick up their crosses and follow me aren't worthy of me. Those who find their lives will lose them, and those who lose their lives because of me will find them.

This chapter of Matthew addresses Jesus' teaching about the cost of discipleship and the promise of such. He "warns" that marginalization may come to those who follow God's direction.

How can we bring injustices to light and stand in solidarity with those most impacted by those injustices?

While we are temporarily unable to meet as a Body of Christ in a building, consider weekly reading the (below listed) lectionaries to feed your spiritual "hunger" and continue "being the church" wherever you are!

Iowa United Methodist Camps Announce Summer Ministry Plans

The Summer of 2020 is just around the corner and with it comes opportunities to connect in different ways than ever before. Iowa United Methodist Camps are proud to announce “Backyard Camp”, a one-of-a-kind summer program offering from the combined staff at Wesley Woods and Okoboji United Methodist Camps.

Bryan Johnson, Director of Camps and Retreats says “connection with friends old and new is one of the best parts of the camping ministry. While summer camp can’t happen in the way that it has in the past, we miss seeing you and don’t want to wait a whole year to be together. Backyard Camp is a great way to check in and continue growing together and sharing our love of Christ.”

There are five summer sessions available for campers with different themes and activities for all ages. Backyard Camp is more than just a virtual option, however, as program elements like group bible studies and horses are included, as well as individual time with year-round camp staff and activities to get campers away from the screen. For example, the Wesley Woods Equestrian Center is included with Backyard Camp.

Backyard Camp is open for campers to register today! Recognizing that this is a difficult time for many, Backyard Camp uses a ‘Pay What You Can’ tiered system. “Consistent with any Iowa United Methodist Camp Program, we won’t turn away any camper based on financial need,” says Bryan Johnson. “We believe that if people have the ability to help support camp by funding Backyard Camp at a level that works for them they will. We’re all in this together, after all!”

Registration for Backyard Camp can be found at www.iaumc.org/camps.

Missions

Right now, there are so many things in our world that are strange, unique and unusual. One thing that has not changed, however, people are still in need of a helping hand. Are you looking for a way to lend a helping hand? You can donate to a mission of your choosing by writing a check to St Luke and in the memo line, note the mission you are wishing to help. Here are just a few ideas of places your help would be appreciated:

1. Give funds designated to the Jasper County Salvation Army Food Pantry and help local families who are struggling to put food on their tables.
2. Give funds designated to the Society of St Andrew and help feed people throughout the United States.
3. Give funds designated to Women at the Well United Methodist church and help this mission church serve the needs of the prison ministry.
4. Give funds designated to United Methodist missionaries in Africa – Larry and Jane Kies.
5. Give funds designated to Heifer Project International as they fight hunger and poverty around the world.
6. Give funds designated to Midwest Mission Distribution Center as they meet needs both in the US and around the world.

Treasure the Present

Patience asks us to live the moment to the fullest ... to taste the here and now, to be where we are. When we are impatient, we try to get away from where we are. We behave as if the real thing will happen tomorrow, later, and somewhere else. Let's be patient and trust that the treasure we look for is hidden in the ground on which we stand.

Vacation Bible School Update

The VBS planning team has determined that in light of the continuing risk of serious infection of the Covid-19 virus, we will not be having in-person VBS this summer. It was not an easy decision to come to, but the modifications and restrictions necessary for the safety of children and volunteers would make the experience of VBS radically different. We worry about what this might do for future years, but we also worry about how we would feel if someone was hurt by our continuing as we are used to.

We are still looking into the possibility of having an online VBS this year. Cokesbury is hard at work to give churches options for this and as the planning team looks at these options, we will let you know if that will work for us.

For those of you who volunteered to serve, we thank you. We look forward to your participation when we do this VBS theme next summer. Ann will be in touch with you about returning your materials.

Thank you for understanding. I pray that we can return to some form of normal soon and that everyone can remain safe and healthy.

Pastor Chad
